What is a Water Quality Improvement Plan (WQIP)?

The map illustrates the Rio Grande watershed, which is outlined in blue. The watershed is divided into several regions, with the central and southern portions shaded in yellow and red. Four specific locations are highlighted with black boxes and labels: Barrett Reservoir, Morena Reservoir, El Carrizo Dam, and Rodriguez Dam. The map also shows the border between the United States and Mexico, with various cities and towns labeled, including Santee, El Paso, and San Antonio. The map is a topographic representation, showing elevation and terrain features.
